

RECIPROCITY OR TARIFF WAR?

Negotiations May End in Better Trade Relations

BETTER FOR THE WEST

Hon. W. S. Fielding is Still Silent but Rumors are Coming from Albany and Washington

Ottawa, March 22.—Hon. W. S. Fielding still maintains his attitude of silence on the question of the tariff negotiations with President Taft. Despatches from Albany and Washington, however, indicate that the situation is gradually changing from one of a possible war on tariff to a possible reciprocal trade arrangement in the near future in a more or less extensive scale. All signs seem to point in that direction.

There is no suggestion here that in any arrangement that is made with the United States, there will be any concession on the part of Canada to abandon her position of fiscal independence. Concession will probably have to be made with respect to duties on certain goods, but it is not likely that the United States will be asked to make reciprocal trade agreements with Germany or any other country with whom she thinks she can build up a trade to the advantage of the Canadian people.

Should the possibility outlined above be the result of the tariff negotiations, it is expected that it will be regarded as satisfactory by the Canadian people, with the exception of those who would like to see a tariff wall against the United States built higher. Such an outcome, it is said, would be particularly pleasant to Western Canada where the possibility in the event of a tariff war of a 33 1/3 per cent retaliatory tariff being imposed on agricultural implements, etc., would be very serious. It is also expected that the tariff negotiations will be regarded with interest by representatives of the people in the House, irrespective of party affiliations. It can be safely assumed, however, that in the event of a finding of any reciprocal arrangement, all possible duty will be exercised to secure better trade relations with the United States, without doing harm to established Canadian industries.

WALKED FROM DAWSON CITY

J. R. Peters, of Spokane, Made the Trip in Seventy-five Days

J. R. Peters of Spokane, registered at the Alberta hotel a remarkable story to a Capital reporter this morning. "Ten years ago," said Mr. Peters, "I arrived at Edmonton after having walked all the way down from Dawson City. It took me just seventy-five days to do it."

Mr. Peters had just finished some work for the company he was representing in Dawson City at that time. It was too late to get down to Seattle by boat, so he decided, rather than to go back and spend another winter in the Yukon, he would walk the distance down to Edmonton.

"I had no very exciting adventures," said Mr. Peters, "but of course there was a great deal of hardship and it was awfully lonely. There was plenty of game, however, and I did not miss a meal during the whole seventy-five days."

"I left Dawson City in a buckskin suit. When I walked into Edmonton one October morning, about all that was left of the suit was a belt and a pocket. I had seventy thousand dollars in drafts on me, and $700 in cash."

Mr. Peters is investigating some projects here in which New York and Chicago capitalists are expecting to invest.

BRITISH COMMONS MAY BE DISSOLVED

Position of Liberal Government is a Difficult one—Much Depends on Redmond

London, March 22.—The Commons reassembles on Tuesday. The veto resolution on the same lines as the Campbell-Bannerman proposal will be at once discussed and probably passed after a week's discussion, in which the opposition will declare the resolution quite impracticable, because it is impossible to define what is and what is not in finance upon which the Lords' veto is to be destroyed.

While the Lords are considering these resolutions, the budget will be presented to the Commons. Redmond will only accept the budget if Asquith pledges himself to demand from the King immediately a promise to overrule the peers in the acceptance of the veto proposals, by creating 40 peers, if necessary. Asquith hesitates to make any such pledge, more against the sovereign, hence the possibility that the ministry will go to a general election without having abolished the veto, without even having carried the budget and without guarantees.

Rosebery's Resolutions
The House of Lords yesterday adopted the whole, yesterday adopted the first and second of three resolutions moved by Lord Rosebery on March 14th. The debate on the third resolution was adjourned until today. The two resolutions which were adopted are as follows:

"That a strong and efficient second chamber is not merely an integral part of the British constitution, but is necessary to the well-being of the state and the balance of parliament. That a second chamber can best be obtained by reforming and reconstituting the House of Lords."

The third resolution on which the debate was adjourned, reads: "That a necessary preliminary to such reform and reconstitution is the acceptance of the principle that possession of a peerage shall no longer in itself give the right to sit and vote in the House of Lords."

TWO SCORE MET AWFUL DEATHS

Forty-five Were Killed in Accident on Rock Island Railway

FORTY BADLY INJURED

Locomotive Was Ditched and Four Cows and Smoking Car Were Teleported Against Pullman

Marshalltown, Iowa, March 22.—Forty-five persons were killed and 40 injured, many of them fatally, in a wreck four miles and a half north of Lanesboro, Iowa, yesterday on a Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train. Many passengers were injured, many of them fatally, in a wreck four miles and a half north of Lanesboro, Iowa, yesterday on a Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train. Many passengers were injured, many of them fatally, in a wreck four miles and a half north of Lanesboro, Iowa, yesterday on a Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train.

A slight freight wreck on the Rock Island on Sunday night at Shelbyburg near the Baltimore cause of the Rock Island disaster. The Rock Island line was derailed and it became necessary to clear over the Great Western tracks. Two trains went from Cedar Rapids to Marshalltown were coupled together and two locomotives placed in front of them. Both locomotives were running backwards. The second train consisted of thirteen cars, the Pullman was next to the locomotive, then the smoker, then the day coach. In the latter were many women and children.

The double train was going about 25 miles an hour when it reached a cut five miles from Green Mountain at five o'clock. In this cut the double of the two locomotives jumped the tracks. This threw the locomotive into the side of the main cut. The sides were steep and the engine went into it and stopped almost instantly.

The sudden stoppage derailed the second locomotive and the momentum of the heavy train caused the day coach and the smoking car against the heavier Pullman. The smoking car and day coach were derailed and landed on top of the Pullman car, causing great injury. While the first car was derailed on the side of the cut, the other three passengers from the cars.

RULED AGAINST FLAT RATE

Newspapers Must Pay for News Service on Work Basis

Ottawa, March 22.—A hard fight has been made before the Dominion Railway Commission by the eastern newspaper men to preserve the flat rate under which the Associated Press carried by the Canadian Pacific at the present time, but the commission ruled against them yesterday, holding that the railway act specifically prohibited the flat rate arrangements of any kind. This was really the important development of the day and marked the opening of a new era in news gathering in Canada. Henceforth all press services must be carried on a word rate basis published rates of the telephone company to be available for all news gathering and news distributing concerns.

REV. R. G. STEWART TO COME HERE

Has Been Extended an Unanimous Call by the Congregation of Knox Church

Winnipeg, Man., March 22.—The Rev. R. G. Stewart, of Kenton, Manitoba, has received a unanimous call from Robertson Presbyterian Church, Edmonton, and has accepted. Mr. Stewart has been considering calls from several other churches, but the hearty request from the city of Alberta won him.

Mr. Stewart, though still a young man, has gained for himself a place among the foremost pulpit orators and preachers in our land. He completed his course in the Central Presbyterian college in the spring of 1908, taking the Mr. Morris scholarship and the prize in oratory. On the completion of his course he was offered the assistantship of St. Gabriel's church in Montreal but the call of the West was too great and demanding.

Kenton was the field of his labors during several years of his student days, and when the people of that place desired a minister no other but Mr. Stewart would do. His work there has been crowned with success.

Mrs. Stewart, the lady of the manse, is a western girl, and by her winsome manner, genial, unselfish spirit, has gained the good-will of all who know her. The Kenton people are both to let Mr. and Mrs. Stewart go, but their loss will be Edmonstons gain.

MUST HAVE $25 AND A TICKET

Immigrants Entering Canada Must be Provided With Funds

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL PASSED

An Exception May be Made for Those Assured of Employment at Farm Work or as Domestic

Ottawa, March 22.—An order-in-council has been passed providing that any immigrant, male or female, entering Canada, and including also persons coming across the border between March 1 and October 30 must have in his or her possession at the time of arrival at least $25 in cash in addition to a ticket or such a sum of money as will purchase transportation to the immigrant's destination in Canada. It is also provided that if the immigrant is the head of a family and accompanied by the members of such family he or she must have a further sum of money equivalent to twenty-five dollars for each member of the family of eighteen years or upwards and $2.50 for each member of said family between five and fifteen years of age in addition to tickets or a sum of money equivalent to the cost of transportation to their place of destination in Canada.

Between November 1st and last day of February, it is required that each immigrant must have in cash double the amount mentioned. It is further provided that immigration agents may exempt any immigrant from the operation of the foregoing regulations if it is shown to his satisfaction that they are assured of employment at farm work or as domestic servants and have means of reaching the place of such employment.

FALSE PRETENCES CHARGED

Before Inspector Worsley last night, Charles Swift of this city, was charged with obtaining $250 from Charles Salby for false pretences. It appears that Swift got Salby to cash the check for him, and when the latter presented it at the bank, there was only a very small amount on deposit. The accused was given his liberty on $500 bail and the trial will be continued next week.

ARE AFTER COMBINE

Government Takes Action Against National Packing Co., of Chicago

Chicago, March 22.—In the most terrific attack ever directed by the government against a trust the department of justice yesterday laid the foundation for criminal proceedings against the National Packing Company and each of its subsidiary corporations. The suit was filed in the United States Circuit Court within five minutes after the Federal Grand Jury had returned its long list of indictments against the packing combine in Judge Landis' court.

Should the suit to dissolve the National Packing Company succeed in its purpose, it was declared that a individual packers named in that suit as defendants would have been proved violators of the anti-trust law, and as such amenable to that law and subject to its penalties. The penalty so provided is a maximum fine of $50,000, a penitentiary sentence of one year or both.

The individual packers named as defendants in the civil suits and who thus becomes liable to prosecution criminally under this plan are:

Edward Tilden, Louis F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, Chas. H. Swift, L. A. Carton, Frank Fowler, J. Ogden Arnot, Arthur Meeker, Thomas J. Connor, Edward Morris, Thos. E. Wilson and L. H. Heyman. The organizations named in the dissolution suit with the individuals in addition to the corporations indicated are:

Armour and Company, Swift and Company, Morris and Company, Continental Packing Company.

HON. F. OLIVER'S IMMIGRATION BILL

Is Canada Forced to Accept Undesirable Immigrants who are Passing Through to United States?

Ottawa, March 22.—Twenty-four clauses of Hon. Frank Oliver's immigration bill were adopted in the Commons yesterday and the remainder will be taken up this afternoon.

J. E. Armstrong, East Lambton, drew the attention of the minister to some cases in which foreign immigrants on their trip through Canada to the United States, such as Sarnia and Windsor. He said that in these instances Canada had been forced to accept these immigrants, who were not considered fit for admission into the United States and they would have doubtless been refused by the Canadian officers at the ocean ports of entry.

Mr. Oliver promised to investigate the case. He said that immigrants bound for the United States by way of Canada were examined by United States officials at Acadia airport. It might be necessary to adjust the arrangement whereby immigrants to the United States were allowed to pass through Canada. Amendments were moved by Clarence Jamieson, Digby, to prevent the immigration of persons who had two attacks of insanity, persons convicted of felony or any crime involving moral turpitude, polygamist or anarchist, or persons designing the overthrow of the government of Great Britain, Canada or any other country of this Empire.

Mr. Oliver said these would complicate the administration of the law. Mr. Templeman's bill authorizing the expenditure of $50,000 for investigating the process used for the production of zinc from Canadian ores was passed.

Before James Connors' bill to incorporate the Rainy River Railway passed through committee it was given its third reading. Mr. G. P. Graham said he was against giving to a private company the right to expropriate water powers. A prominent feature of all the railway bills was the endeavor to acquire water powers, and the right to expropriate. He thought it was time to call a halt. J. G. Turfitt, Assiniboia, supported the minister in this.

WEST END GRIEVANCES

Improvement Association Want Gainers Stock Yards Removed

The West End Improvement Association has found, since its organization several weeks ago, that it has many matters of great importance to bring to the attention of the civic authorities.

As the result of a well-attended meeting in Dewar's Hall last evening a deputation will wait on the city council this evening and a demand that Gainer's stock yard situated at the intersection of the St. Albert road and the E. Y. P. track be removed. The yards have served the purpose of a bi-weekly live stock market, where farmers have been in the habit of selling their hogs and also of a fattening station where the hogs have been kept until required to be killed. For obvious reasons the place has become obnoxious to the west end residents.

Attention was also given to the need of a fire hall on Twenty-first street, where it would serve the greatest number of people. An attempt will be made to have the proposed fire hall on Sixteenth street changed to Twenty-first street.

Better police protection is another matter which is agitating the west enders. At present a patrol at 10 o'clock in the evening is made but after that there is no policeman in sight for the remainder of the night. A number of suspicious characters have been seen in the neighborhood and they of course are aware at what hour the patrol is made. Representatives of the association will confer with the police department as to the prospect of securing better police protection in the near future.

FELL 60 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Delirious Patient Climbed out of the Window at Misericordia.

WILLIAM BARBER KILLED

Inquest Held at the Hospital This Morning Resulted in Verdict of Accidental Death.

While in a state of delirium, William Barber, a typhoid patient at the Misericordia Hospital, climbed out of the window of his room on the top floor, tore away the netting that guarded the opening, and walked out to his death, falling to the ground sixty feet below.

About eleven o'clock last night, the patient, who was under the care of Dr. J. G. Campbell, Alberta avenue, began to get delirious. The doctor was not in the hospital at the time, and strange to say, although delirious, Barber was left alone in his room. What strange idea took possession of his fevered brain, no one knows, but the sick man leaped from his bed, rushed over to the window, flung it open. A wire netting barred the way, but this was torn aside, and the patient stepped out on to a narrow stone ledge that runs around the top of the hospital. He had only taken a few steps along the ledge, when he stepped over the edge, and fell to the ground sixty feet below.

The body struck the grass in a standing position, and so great was the impact, that the feet sank into the ground to a depth of twelve inches. The legs were broken, and the body, wrenched body fell over to the ground, the man's face striking the everted corner of a basement window, cutting and disfiguring the face.

The terrible accident had only occurred a few minutes before a nurse entered the patient's bed room, and seeing the empty bed and the body, wrenched body fell over to the ground, the man's face striking the everted corner of a basement window, cutting and disfiguring the face.

The body was found, and as life was not yet extinct, Dr. Campbell was summoned. When he arrived he called in Dr. F. J. Follinsbee for a consultation. Everything possible was done, but Barber only lived about four hours.

An inquest was held at the hospital this morning. Dr. Braithwaite presiding. The verdict was that William Barber met his death as the result of an accidental fall while the dead man was delirious.

WILL STAY IN MANCHURIA

Japanese Government Will Concentrate its Emigration in Asia

Tokio, March 22.—In the house of representatives, M. Oishi, leader of the progressive party, recently attacked the foreign office. He said: "The emigration policy of the government is negative. Our sphere of emigration should not be confined to Manchuria alone. It should extend to all parts of the world. The government should make preparations to check the anti-Japanese movement abroad. The alleged concentration of our emigrants in Manchuria and Korea is only a subterfuge of the government which has failed to accomplish what is properly within the rights of this country."

Count Komura, foreign minister, replied as follows: "Japan became a continental nation as the result of that great war. We have China with 400,000,000 people on the west, Russia with 160,000,000 on the north, and America with 100,000,000 in the east. Japan with only 50,000,000 people should concentrate rather than scatter her people. With this object in view, the government intends to concentrate emigrants in Manchuria and Korea."

TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1910.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics published a table the other day which at a glance shows some of the changes that have been wrought in fifty years. The country's position of the principal agricultural commodities has been as follows:

		1860	1880	1900	1909
Wheat	28	52	105	106
Oats	41	70	151	353
Barley	3	22	52	55
Rye	3	2	2	1
Peas	12	13	12	8
Buckwheat	3	4	4	7
Mixed Grains	—	—	7	19
Flax	—	—	1	1
Beans	—	—	1	1
Corn	2	9	25	19
Potatoes	38	55	55	69
Turnips, etc.	24	48	70	107

The prices that have been obtained are:

		1860	1880	1900	1909
Wheat	$1.25	$1.16	$2	$4
Oats	35	36	27	34
Barley	65	61	41	45
Rye	65	73	54	73
Peas	71	77	61	88
Buckwheat	47	73	47	53
Mixed Grains	—	36	39	—
Flax	—	145	142	—
Beans	101	119	142	—
Corn	55	61	23	66
Potatoes	35	32	34	36
Turnips, etc.	10	10	11	16

In view of all we hear about the high cost of living it is rather remarkable that a basic commodity like wheat should have been higher both thirty and fifty years ago.

Captain Bernier, Canada's very own Arctic hero, came out a week ago with a statement that he was going to have a late spring. It is only a few months since he acclaimed Dr. Cook as the discoverer of the North Pole. Some kind friend should take the Cap. aside and tell him to keep out of print. He shows to greater advantage on the quarter-deck.

The attention of the editor of the Calgary Alberta is called to the case of his young confere, the editor of the High River Times. Despite the fact that the Alberta, after what no one will deny has been most exhaustive investigations, has declared that it can find no indication of graft in connection with the A. & G. W. deal, the Times uses this language:

"During the past week we have read a great deal about Senator Talbot or Judge Sifton becoming premier of Alberta. Not on our chief. We have a man for that position. W. H. Cushing, the late minister of public works, who sacrificed his position in preference to seeing the province robbed and plundered by a set of grafters, is the man and the only man for the job."

If this is the reason Mr. Cushing resigned, it is a pity he did not give it to the Legislature.

Reports from Montreal indicate that it is extremely unlikely that there will be another winter carnival there. The always were dead against it and their aid is very necessary in connection with any such project. On top of this opposition, came a typhoid epidemic and a thaw which obtained such proportions that fears were entertained that the ice palace would collapse. Few will waste regrets over the fact. There is nothing wrong with the Canadian winter, but we have to recognize that considerable prejudice exists among possible settlers owing to the belief that we are snowbound for the greater part of the year. We have to combat this idea along the line and it is foolish to neutralize these efforts by associating the country with Arctic conditions, as we certainly do when we send winter carnival literature abroad.

The night train which the C. P. R. proposes to run three times a week between Edmonton and Calgary, should prove a decided convenience. At present for a citizen of either place to have a complete day in the other means the loss of practically three days. With the opening of the short line to Winnipeg, the traffic by way of Calgary is bound to be lessened and it has been assumed that the afternoon train would be taken off. The night-midnight service under these conditions, would be a welcome substitute.

What Others Say

THE INTERESTS BEHIND THE THE OPPOSITION

(Calgary Optimist)

If this A. & G. W. controversy lasts a few days longer the Morning Alberta will be quoting The Optimist editorials with approval. Rather a strutting statement to make, but read below. The following was in the editorial page of the morning paper of Friday, endorsed in toto:

"The guarantee of $20,000 per mile cannot be called excessive in spite of Mr. Cushing's offer to build the line for $12,000 to $16,000 per mile, and right here it might be well to remember that Mr. Cushing is not a railroad man either, and also that his strongest support has come from the legal representative of the greatest railroad corporation in America, a corporation whose interests might be considerably affected by a rival company in the north."

Now there is some good hard sense in that, and goes to prove that the Alberta is honest at heart. When it starts in to knock the government over it wasn't wise to the C. P. R. interest. It didn't realize that the frame-up it was pledged to endorse was a C. P. R. Conservative party frame-up. If it had been able to see ahead of its nose it wouldn't have done it, for it is well known that the owner of the paper has refused riches for his paper's influence in times past. It knows it now, however, and is sorry. Else why would it endorse the above?

There are a lot of people who overlooked the big interests behind the opposition. I am told that the Liberal leaders are clever politicians. They are, no doubt, but so will we be endeavoring to defend their conduct on its merits that they, themselves, overlooked their real opponent. If the people of this province had been shown the hand of the C. P. R. in this affair the first day of the opposition, there would not now be the united opposition that there is. Gentlemen tell me the corporation wouldn't oppose the Tax Case by any such methods. Stuff and nonsense, and likewise thunders! Does not Dr. Laflair fight his taxes? Did not a great company of Calgary's leading owners get out and fight what they considered to be unjust taxation? Does not the C. P. R. consider that it would be unjust to tax their lands? Would it be dishonest for them to win an election for their party in the hope of a less vigorous prosecution? I say not. It is only customary to do such things, and the C. P. R. would have been slow indeed had they overlooked such a golden opportunity. As the representative of the people of the province, Mr. R. B. Bennett had no business fighting a C. P. R. fight in the legislature, and he is entitled to judgment. But the C. P. R. was only fighting the same old fight. We must expect such a fight from them. We must forever expect corporations to fight their battles and not only in the legislature, but in the highest tribunal of justice in the Empire. Twenty-nine million dollars. And we meekly declare that the opposition to this A. & G. W. deal is all on the square!

WHY PAYS THE DUTY?

(Goderich Signal)

The Signal's contention that the consumer pays the duty is strikingly confirmed by a letter received a few days ago by a Goderich merchant from a Montreal firm of importers. This letter stated that owing to the removal of the surtax on German goods an order placed by the Goderich merchant for cashmere gloves would be executed at reduced prices, the reduction all around on this order being about seven per cent. The reduced prices will form the basis for the merchant's selling price, and the purchaser of the goods will get the benefit.

ALBERTA LEMONS

(Crossfield Chron) When a lemon? Were you ever handed a lemon? We are serious. A real Alberta lemon, picked in this province in January. The other day S. K. High, who lives four miles west of town, came into our office and handed us a real, ripe Alberta lemon. We thought at first that he was trying to work the old wheeze off on us but he said that he also had some oranges which were not ripe yet. The plants are indoors and have thrived in a remarkable manner.

Hail Insurance Question

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:—Might an old timer be permitted to take up some of your valuable space on the subject of Compulsory Hail Insurance.

I am quite at a loss to know why insurance against hail should be made compulsory any more than any other insurance. I have been here for twenty-two years and never being hailed out and yet our Premier came here lately and boasted, yes, I say, boasted, that the government, by which I suppose he means the taxpayers, had lost some $8,000 last year in hail insurance. If this is a thing to boast about there are a few of us here who do not think so.

One of the principles of good government is that it must always be for the "greatest good of the greatest number." Is compulsory hail insurance for the greatest good of the greatest number? I emphatically answer No.

It has been stated to me that the education and road taxes are compulsory and why not hail. This, of course is not worth replying to as I would certainly object to insuring (compulsory) against shipwreck.

What I would advocate is that the hail insurance be put upon a business footing and let every man insure or not as he sees fit. "Why should any man, or for the matter of that, any Government, take me by the throat and say, 'You must insure against hail?'"

If he, or the government had said first instead of hail, then a few of us might have listened to the voice of the charmer—no, I mean, insure.

I have a whole lot more to say on the subject of compulsory insurance and would like to point out that the education and road taxes, though in a manner compulsory, are not in reality, as every good citizen is glad to pay them provided that they are carefully and properly handled and expended.

With apologies for taking up so much of your valuable space, I beg to enclose my card and subscribe myself, Your obedient servant,
EAST CLOVER BAR.

CALGARY HORSE SHOW

The most successful show in the history of Alberta will be held at Calgary, April 3rd and 8th. The horse show entries number 90 as against 615 the previous year. The cattle sale entries number 122 as against 62 of last year, and the fat stock show will be nearly double the size of any previous year. The entries in the horse show classes are so numerous that in spite of the fact that one extra programme was provided for when the prize list was made up, an additional programme has had to be added for Wednesday morning at Victoria park in order to give time to complete the judging. This is a most satisfactory state of affairs, and assures the patrons of the shows most entertaining programmes, and which also assures for the manager and his assistants plenty of time to complete the arrangements for a successful show. The Executive Committee for the Horse Breeder's Association met last Saturday to arrange the hours of judging for the various classes, and the manager explains that an effort will be made so that the programmes will be over not later than 11 p.m. each evening.

The World of Amusement

At the Empire.

The 602 at the Empire this week is quite up to anticipations. The Marimba Band, styled "a novelty from Central America," made the life of the evening with the big crowd that was present.

On their peculiar instruments they produced some most delightful music, far above the usual kind heard in vaudeville. Among other things they play the intermezzo from "Cavalleria-Rusticana," "Nimble," "Serenade," and "Glow-Worm." Baker, Brown and Adolph, in "That's How They Saved Their Lives," kept the audience in an uproar with their successful performance as a French, a German, and an Irish scold.

Riley and Afton do some funny creeping that caught the eye of the crowd, and got them several roars.

This Monday, in what they call "Honeydew," a new song called "In the Smoke," did deservedly attract them half a dozen encores.

The illustrated story is a pretty one, and the Empress's rounds off a bill that is well worth going to see.

Music As It Should Be Played

Until the advent of the Nordheimer Piano-Player many years of study were required to be able to render great compositions. With the truly marvelous resources of the Nordheimer Piano-Player any person can perform the most difficult music and play it perfectly. So many leading citizens of Edmonton, who have purchased this wonderful instrument, have expressed their unbounded delight and satisfaction in the superb musical effects produced in its use. Catalogues on application to Geo. H. Suckling, Harmony Hall, 237-239 Rice street. Edmonton's most spacious and thoroughly artistic Piano Warehouse.

CY YOUNG IS STILL GOOD

This Former Stand-by of Boston Team Now Playing with Cleveland, Has a Wonderful Record

There is one pitcher who stands out above all others for consistent work, year in and year out, and this is Cy Young, known to fans as "Cy." Since his advent in organized baseball he has secured the place that has been his for many years, and when it is remembered that Christy Mathewson, his nearest rival, has yet to win thirteen games before he can lay claim to half that number, the achievement of the old player may well be looked upon as wonderful.

Of the other pitchers who for instance, Phil, Powell, Leaver and Chesbro, none has approached the mark set by Mathewson, and in fact none of them has just what is in the Cy Young.

Powell, who is still working, started with the Cleveland club in 1897. During his thirteen years on the club he has won but 225 games.

Sam Leaver has a good, steady record for the last eleven years. He began his work with a shut-out victory and had a season's percentage of .488. His work has been exceptionally consistent and he has always finished near the top.

In 1905, President Pullman gave him first rank over the 40 club players. Leaver has brought home the bacon just 187 times since he began pitching and won many games.

Phil, who came into prominence about the same time as Mathewson, has won but 172 games. Phil began strong and continued to improve with a few years of seasoning. His work last year was up to standard.

But the achievements of these men rank him for consistency among the many records of old Cy Young and the Mathewson, steady work of Christy Mathewson are taken into consideration. The records of several veterans follow.

Seasons. W. L. Av.
Young 19 497 297 656
Mathewson .. 10 237 109 684
Powell 18 225 203 523
Leaver 11 187 92 672
Chesbro 11 113 144 566
Phillips 10 172 300 612

The records of Griffith and Nichols, who are no longer in the game, but who hold long distance records, are:

DO THEY MEAN FRANK GREY?

Calgary Paper Has an Interview With "Sam" Grey—He Thinks Well of Edmonton Baseball Team

The Alberta says: Yesterday (Sun) Grey of Edmonton was in the city en route for the big meeting at Medicine Hat. Sam is big baseball man, and is a real booster for the Edmonton Club. The Athletics will this year have some come to town. The directors have full confidence in Deacon's ability to lead a good team for this summer. There will be no reputation of last year's McGinnis. Deacon (White) has landed a bunch of players from which Sam Grey hopes he will be able to pick a potent-winning team. Last year towards the finish of the season, the Storm in Edmonton did not draw any two world, because the crowd was on Diney and his wild-bunch. With Deacon it will be different this year, as all Edmonton has the greatest confidence in Deacon's baseball ability.

Versatile Ottawa.

Ottawa is certainly a city of surprises. Last Saturday there was good curling on all the rinks, while some of the very exclusive Connaught House met spend a ripper day on the golf links. History doesn't relate what the curling club's Cup holders indulged in. Who said "winter"?

MAKES A NEW BOWLING RECORD

A Transient Trader Strolls Into a London Bowling Alley and Makes Enormous Total of One Point

What is beyond doubt a world's record for ten-pin bowling was rolled some National Aloys, London, Ont., last week. There have been records and records, but this one stands alone. A London dispatch says: "There was nobody paid any attention when Mr. Hutchinson strolled into the alleys. His style of delivery was not striking, nor were the balls that he rolled. Most of the time he used a cross-grain ball, but this was occasionally varied by a curve."

But about that record. This man, being wily and old, and to his right, doing his best to knock down the pins, rolled twenty balls down the alley and only succeeded in scoring one. In other words, nineteen of the balls rolled into the gutter, while the twentieth varied the performance by knocking down the ten pins.

It is a performance which would call into the first skill of a professional to equal, for it is not an easy matter to pick that ten pin and leave the others standing. In fact, this score will stand without an equal longer than a 300 score, for the latter is a matter of skill, while this night's score was simply luck and mightily poor luck at that.

The pin boys are saying that this new style of bowling will become a fad. It makes little factor for these overworked youths.

TAYLOR RETURNS TO OTTAWA

That Story from Renfrew About a Good Position was a Bluff—Just Had Leave of Absence

It seems that the dreary stories that came out from Renfrew about the famous job for Fred Taylor when he joined the Ottawa team last week were pure bluff. The Ottawa team, which was supposed to have been in the city, had in fact been in the city for some time, and the Ottawa team, which was supposed to have been in the city, had in fact been in the city for some time.

The Ottawa team, which was supposed to have been in the city, had in fact been in the city for some time, and the Ottawa team, which was supposed to have been in the city, had in fact been in the city for some time.

SHIRUBB GOING INTO VAUDEVILLE

Has Invented an Electrical Running Machine to Exhibit His Running Abilities

All Shirubb is going into vaudeville. He has invented an electric running machine which he proposes to show himself in action to audiences all over the country. The machine, which is driven by a motor, will be used out at the Royal Alexandra domestic mounting. By a system of control wheels the speed of the machine may be changed by degrees from 5 to 25 miles an hour.

BUFFALO WILL SEND PARTY

Special Cars Will be Attached to the Cohan and Harris Special from New York to Frisco.

Buffalo, March 21.—Lists will soon be opened at the Hotel Inverness for the opening of a party of Buffaloes who are making the trip to Frisco to witness the championship clash between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson. A number of local fight lovers have expressed the intention of making the journey to be present at what promises to be one of the greatest battles in ring history, and if enough names can be secured a special car will be arranged for and attached to the Cohan and Harris special that will run from New York to Frisco.

WILL DEPEND ON HOME-BREWS

New Westminster Lacrosse Team, Holders of Minto Cup Will Not Call on Outside Talent

New Westminster will depend on the home-brews to defend the Minto Cup against Montreal and Vancouver this year. This was the unanimous opinion expressed at the annual meeting of the Canadian Lacrosse Association which was held in New Westminster last Friday evening. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the club, and the unbounded confidence was expressed in the ability of the club to defend the vice-regal silverware against all comers.

Numerous applications from local aspirants for places on the championship line-up were turned over to the new executive.

The Salmonbellies had a remarkably successful season last year. The boys went into training early in the spring, and almost as soon as the schedule commenced were called upon to defend the Minto Cup against the Regina team.

Following these games, a month later, namely, June 24th and 25th, the Trenchmills of Toronto, champions of the N.L.U., made a determined attempt to lift the cup but were unsuccessful.

The pin boys are saying that this new style of bowling will become a fad. It makes little factor for these overworked youths.

At one time during the season the team got very stale, but a two weeks' holiday and buy-up at Boundary Bay brought them back to form and they won through the rest of the season with flying colors.

If the Salmonbellies can end up this season with the cup still in their possession, they are mortals. In a repeat, the Montreal A.A.A. team, champions for 1909 of the N.L.U., will be in Westminster in quest of the silverware.

The Vancouver team, which numbers among its players such men as Archie Adamson, Pickering, Avery, Laidlaw and other Eastern celebrities, will give the champions a tough argument all summer. It remains to be seen whether Westminster playing all homebrows and minus the services of Dal Tumbull, will be able to retain its position as the champion lacrosse team of Canada.

MINISTER IS SOME SCRAPPER

The First Five Rounds Were Decided in Favour of the Clergyman—Was Declared a Draw.

Midway, 4:45, March 21.—An exciting event in McCall was a sporting match between C. R. Martin, a Congregational preacher, and J. T. Johnson, a noted South Dakota boxer. The first five rounds were decidedly in favor of the Long Valley clergyman, who, with lightning, would make a good showing among the lightweights.

In the middle of the contest he was urged to knock his opponent out, but he replied that he did not wish to make a spectacle of what was intended to be a scientific boxing match. At the sixth round it was declared a draw, with public opinion with Martin as the better man, although Johnson made a lively campaign.

Later Mr. Martin defended his performance by a sermon with a text from Revelation on "Wrestling with Principles and Powers, and the duty to 'overcome.'"

Keogh Retains Pool Title.

Rochester, N.Y., March 21.—Jerome R. Keogh of Rochester last night (Monday) won the 600-ball match for the city's pool title at a 10:00 clock this morning, the final score being 600 to 556 in favor of Keogh, the defender. In the first block Monday night, West-end scored 250 to Keogh's 171. At the end of the second block the challenger had a lead of three balls, 40 to 38.

SASKATOON WON FROM MOOSOMIN

Score was 8-2—Must Play Another Game but Where is the Coming From?

Saskatoon, Sask., March 18.—The good citizens of Saskatoon doled their summer citizens' service for goodly surrendering in the heat all day and turned out to see the hockey game between Moosomin and Saskatoon, champions of the southern section of the Provincial Hockey League, and Saskatoon, champions of the northern section. Notwithstanding the fact that the ice after being swept was hard and in fairly good condition and the spectators were treated to one of the best exhibitions of the game seen from this winter, Saskatoon, however, had it all their own way through out to the extent the score indicated. When Referee Truettall called time Saskatoon had eight goals and Moosomin two. The final score was two to one in favor of the victors, but in the second half the Moosomin went out and showed the visitors off their feet. None of the outside Stanley Cuppers appeared on the local line-up, Saskatoon scoring closely to home talent. The personnel of the team was:

Hamilton, Bermuda, March 21.—In the first inning of a cricket match here today between the Bermudians and Hamilton eleven the Bermudians scored 86 and the Bermudians 157.

On account of playing only and colored players on the same teams, the new United States Outlaw Baseball League have been outlawed "Black and Tan League."

LACROSSE CLUB MEETS FRIDAY

Organization Meeting will be Held—Chappelle and Play, New Players are in Town

An organization meeting of the Edmonton Lacrosse Club will be held on Friday evening. The place will be announced later in the week. Prospects look very bright. With "Lady" Taylor likely to stay in town the club will not doubt turn out with the best. Then there are a number of others, among them Chappelle of Bramford and George May from Orangeville.

There is some talk of organizing a City Lacrosse League and the matter will be discussed at the meeting on Friday.

Some of the players were out on Saturday, throwing the ball around, and seem very anxious to get in the game.

TEAM REPORTS NEXT MONTH

Players will Likely be Along About April 18th—Local Management Well-Placed With Prospects

President Frank Grey and Manager Deacon White are very pleased at the meeting of the Western Canada Lacrosse League last Saturday in Moose Jaw. Everything seems to point to a very successful season as enthusiasm is rampant in every city represented in the league.

If the season opens on May 4th, as was practically decided at the meeting, the Edmonton players will probably report there about April 18th, as Deacon wishes them to get in two weeks' training before opening day. The spring work will be done right down on Diamond Park, as the balcony at the Edmonton Hotel has been torn down and the team is in a fix. Transportation will be sent out about April 2nd.

Riley and Dorman will have the longest journey as they live in the East. Then Luss and Merrill are out on the coast. Mills and Barron are in Calgary at present, while Condy is right here in the city. The other players are all within a day or two of Edmonton.

Local fans will be pleased to hear that Umpire Moss is to be retained. He was by far the best of a very tall lot of officials.

Deacon has his eye on a catcher named Whiting of the Long Beach team, Los Angeles. Playing for him against the White Sox No. 2, a star pitcher, Deacon won by 5 to 1, and Mr. Whiting was right on deck with a three-pack hit and two runs. Kid Benda played short stop for the winners but does not figure in the scoring.

TOM HALEY WON INDIVIDUAL

Got Together the Magnificent Total of 705 at Detroit—A Competition Record

Detroit, March 21.—Tom Haley, of Detroit, was the sensation of the closing day of the tenth annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress, when he rolled the remarkable score of 705 in the individual event, winning that event and setting a new tournament record. He also won the prize for the best total for nine games since 1904, which is another new American Bowling Congress record.

Haley's great series came in the afternoon. He opened with 236 and the crowd went wild when he hung up 258 for his second, a total of 304 for two games. He needed 189 to win, and made assurance doubly sure with 201.

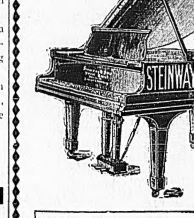

Haley rolled consistently in the three events. In the five-man event he made 617, with the Burnhoughs, Ed Demott, and rolling with Alex. Nimmo, he gathered 649. The pair accumulated 1,193, and would have eleven places.

To Amateur Ball Players.

Any aspiring amateurs who have not already signed up with any City Lacrosse team and would like to play on a first nine should waste no time in communicating with Jack Elliot, at the Woodbine pool room. There are vacancies for a first-class catcher and several infielders.

Oxford-Cambridge Rugby Team.

The wife of the Oxford-Cambridge Rugby football team will give a decided impetus to English rugby in Canada. In addition to the all-star team being formed in Edmonton, McGill University is now talking of getting together a team in order to arrange a fixture with the visitors.

The Eye is Said to be the "Show Window of the Soul." Why not the Show Window the Eye of the Shop?

Certainly there can be no truer index to a shop's standard than is symbolized by the character of the merchandise displayed in its show windows.

We, at least, would have your estimate of our standard based upon the conclusions you may draw from our window displays.

Even if, as yet, you have no more intimate knowledge of our productions than our show windows have given you, some day you will be moved to closer investigation—and that is all we ask.

All too often it happens that a shop, desiring to impress the passer-by prepares special exhibits which do not truthfully reflect the average garment in its stock.

Our displays are, then, a most noteworthy exception in that no pains are taken to "pick the best." Random selections serve our purpose—and they are typical of the assortments from which they come.

THE DAY IN STRATHCONA

Budget of News from the City on the South Bank of the River

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Moberly have returned to Wexford after a few days' visit in the city.

The University of Alberta will close for Easter vacation on Wednesday evening. Lectures will re-commence the following Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graydon leave today for their honeymoon at Irma. Mr. Graydon has been engaged with the firm of Crawford & Wells during the winter. Their absence from the city will be keenly felt by their many friends.

Mr. James M. Douglas, M.P., has returned home from the Capital for the winter season. He will return to Ottawa after about a week's vacation. Mr. Douglas assumes as usual the work of the new post office and the university will be notified forward this winter with dispatch. It is estimated that these will cost $70,000 and $30,000 respectively. He also states that the sum of $25,000 will be expended in preliminary dredging of the river, commencing at Prince Albert.

Miss Anselm of Red Deer, who has been visiting with her sister there, has returned to her duties in the hospital school at Red Deer.

For next Sunday, being Easter Sunday, special music is being prepared in the various churches. Announcements regarding the same will probably be made towards the end of the week.

The University boys are to have their first formal football practice on the Agricultural Grounds on Wednesday at 2.30. They are open for challenges from any amateur team in the Twin Cities. It is expected that a game will be arranged for Good Friday with some local team. There is a lot of good material in the University and a good team should be forthcoming.

The city schools close for Easter on Thursday evening. They will probably re-open on Tuesday. As some of the teachers intend to attend the provincial convention in Calgary during Easter week, some of the standards will probably not re-open until the close of the convention.

It is estimated that over $500,000 worth of building is going on in the city, having been estimated since the spring opening up, in public buildings. The estimated population of the city by the city engineer is in the neighborhood of 5,000. There are looking prospects for the University City. Get up and about! Are you hesitating? Why not have an organized hosiery club and hosiery can be as desirable to be hosiery.

Under the auspices of the Church Club of the Presbyterian Church, a very pleasant social evening was given at the church last evening. A number of friends of the various missions were present and enjoyed a social time together. A short program was given, after which the time was given up to sociality. Dainty refreshments were served during the close of the program.

The Ladies' Reading Club met at the home of Mrs. J. U. Dean yesterday. The meeting was held on social, through Mrs. Dean, who made the discussions, was absent owing to illness. At the close of the meeting the ladies presented Mrs. Dean, on her home, with a beautiful glass vase filled with cut flowers in token of their appreciation of her work in connection with the course this year. This concludes the season of study for this year.

CONTEST NOW IN THE HOMESTRETCH

All Contestants Doing Their Best to Win Out in the Last Lap—Honors, So Far, About Even Between Many Candidates—The Prizes are Still to be Won

DO YOU KNOW

That when the subscriptions turned in amounts to $30, you will receive a special certificate for 2000 votes? It is not necessary to hold back subscriptions until this sum is obtained. Turn them in as you get them—a correct record is kept and candidates will get full benefit of every dollar turned in, provided the amount reaches $10, $20 or $30.

Playfulness Dropped.

The time has come when the little playfulness has been dropped, and contestants are assuming a serious expression that means business from this time forth. Many who have been holding back votes are now forging to the front. Some of them want to get there in one day's efforts are advised to make a steady, methodical advance. It's merely a difference in campaign methods.

Several are still "under cover" with a nice bunch of certificates that count so much, while others are vying close up to their full strength. However, all of the candidates are more than pleased with their own accomplishments so far, but it will require a hard and actual effort on the part of their friends to enable them to maintain their position when the final count is made next Monday evening. There may be many surprises. Who will be the surprised parties we do not know. The contest is still to be won.

Few Days May Turn Tide.

The next few days' work must determine the winners in the great contest. Don't fail to call on your friends for their support, as no vote is at present more scarce.

A Large Vote.

Everybody seems to recognize the fact that the vote will be every much larger than it was at first expected, and a strenuous scramble for votes is being made by all desirous of winning. No contestant is in more danger of defeat unless those who are constant to stop and reap where they sow, while some one else keeps busy and walks off with the coveted prize. The way to win, and the only way, is to keep constantly at it.

All the candidates must have an offer will find proof of the generous support of their many friends. It is now your duty to "keep a-going" and make their efforts count for something. Be a winner.

Avoid Over-Confidence.

A good many of the contestants have been thinking deeply and have sized up the situation thoroughly, realizing that this contest is going to be a huge affair. The same ones realize that the prizes will not be awarded until March 28, and that the names to the effect that Miss So-and-so has a dash on the first grand prize are most decidedly premature. The contest editor has been through a great many of these letters and has seen that smile of comicality fade from 100 many faces not to make an effort to win contestants against the sin of over-confidence. Don't think that because you had a windfall at the close of the increased vote offer that you can reap on your own and laugh at the other candidates. You will be badly fooled if you do that. Prizes such as The Capital are offering will not go to beggars, and there are many shrewd people in this race.

On the other hand, don't believe all the rumors you hear about the hundreds of thousands of votes some of the candidates have up their sleeves. Some contestants consider it good business to try to scare out the timid

The Judges.

The names of the judges, representative business men, who will count the votes and award the prizes to the winners, will be announced Thursday.

Voting Schedule.

The following schedule of votes will be given during the remaining period of The Capital's prize contest.

MAY GO TO SOUTH AFRICADr. Robertson Likely to be Head of an Agricultural College
There

Montreal Herald.—Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, is expected to serve as a pattern for the new agricultural college, which will be established in the Transvaal if present well-laid government plans go through. The government there is now hoping to get a $5,000,000 grant through for this purpose.

The establishment of an agricultural college in this South African colony is sure to attract many Canadians to this new field. There is at present, so it is understood, no one in the Transvaal who is capable of handling the management of such an institution.

It is whispered that Dr. James Robertson the recent head of the Macdonald College, is a likely appointee. He is at present in Switzerland studying agricultural conditions of Southern Europe and incidentally the French language. On his return in June, it is understood that he will soon afterwards start out on a second globe-trotting tour to visit Africa and Australia. One who is directly in touch with the Agricultural Department of the Transvaal told the Herald that if Dr. Robertson had not already been approached, in regard to the possible appointment, he certainly would be. His proposed visit there seems to emphasize this report.

It is understood, too, that several Canadian agricultural experts, in the several departments necessary to the life of an agricultural college of Macdonald College dimensions, have already expressed their desire to go to the new field which will be opened up in the Transvaal. Good salaries would undoubtedly have to be offered, as the bait to that far-off country, but the general scale of pay there is very high.

It would be largely as was the case when the Canadian school teachers were sent to South Africa. Many were willing to accept the two or three years' experience, attracted by the high salaries offered. Many, too, settled in the Transvaal.

"It would be the very best possible thing that could happen my country," said Miss J. C. van Duyn, the young woman from Pretoria, Transvaal, who is at present at Macdonald College, the special representative of her country, to study conditions in particular, and domestic science in particular. "I am inclined to believe that the government appropriation for this scheme will go through all right. An uplift of things agricultural is essential to the future of the Transvaal. The Dutch people of the country are very backward and need education in agriculture badly."

"The establishment of an agricultural college would certainly mean the necessity of importing Canadian agricultural experts. We have none in our country."

ITALIAN CABINET RESIGNS

Government Could Not Carry Measure
Providing For Ship Subsidies

Rome, March 22.—The Italian cabinet resigned yesterday. The resignation of the ministry which was formed on Dec. 10, 1909, with Marzio Simeoni as premier, was due to the realization that the government necessary marine subsidies measure was doomed to defeat.

LARGE SUMS PAID
TO THE LAWYERSInsurance Companies Spare No Expense to Influence Legislation in New York State

New York, March 21.—Municipality meeting question after question at request of witnesses and reading to them in rapid succession figures and telegrams that told in unmistakable terms of the activity of fire insurance companies in influencing legislation at Albany. Wm. S. Alcock, state superintendent of insurance, and his attorney, Alfred Herrell, forced stunning revelations at Saturday's session of the law insurance inquiry.

It was shown that large sums of money had been raised to procure or to influence legislation between 1901 and 1906. These payments, the majority of which were to law firms, ranged from $700 to $17,500. The three largest payments were of $17,500 to the law firm of Sherman and Seidman in 1905 for work at Albany in connection with legislation then pending; of $15,000 in 1906 for the same purpose, and of $8,411 to Elijah R. Kennedy, member of the insurance firm of Wood and Kennedy.

Longboat and Dorando to Race

Montreal, March 21.—Tom Longboat and Dorando Pietri have signed up for a race at 20 miles, to take place at Pittsburgh on March 31. The Indian has recovered from his threatened attack of typhoid fever and is again in training. The race will be postponed owing to Longboat's illness, may take place next week.

Bill Carrigan, catcher of the Boston Red Sox, refuses to be vaccinated. He fears it might injure his arm, and says a catcher cannot afford to have either arm lame. Maudslowi of the Yankees' smallest pose last year, the Boston club entered all players to be vaccinated. Carrigan was the only one not to comply.

ABOUT TOWN

Miss Lawson, art supervisor of the public schools, is on the sick list today.

George MacPherson, aged 65, and for the last three years janitor of the Archibald block, died in the hospital this morning after a week's illness.

City Solicitor Brown will report to the council this evening that the claim of Mrs. Brunelle for damages for injury sustained by a fall on the icy sidewalk last winter cannot be sustained. He reports that the city can be held liable only in case the ice was formed through any negligence on the part of the employees of the city. This he holds was not the case.

Kenneth McLeod, who some time ago purchased the property on the south west corner of Rice street, and McDougall avenue, has had workers busy this week on the old foundation work putting it in shape for the erection of a one-story business block. Several years ago the foundation was laid for an hotel but it was never carried to completion.

At the Alliance—Fred. G. Adams, Winnipeg; Robt. Kennedy, Vancouver; W. W. Walsh, Calgary; L. M. Johnson, Lethbridge; W. A. Bebb, Blairmore; D. W. McLeod, Toronto; M. N. Simons, Calgary; F. R. Patterson, Fort William; T. R. Craig, N. R. Jennings, Toronto; R. B. Bennett, Calgary; J. E. McLeod, Geo. Chisholm, Winnipeg; W. J. Taggart, Portola.

The choir of Grace Methodist Church will give a concert in the church on April 1. Miss Ethel Webster and Dr. Harwood will assist.

Although the school board was in session for several hours last night, discussing the merits of the various applicants for the position of Medical Health Inspector, for the schools, they did not arrive at any decision. The matter will come up again next week.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Edmonton Irish Association will be held Wednesday evening in the Mechanics Hall, Third street. Mr. Crammond will read a paper on "Life in South Africa during the Boer War, From a Soldier's Point of View."

The question of the purchase of the present high school property on College avenue will again be before the city council this evening. The secretary of the public school board has written a letter to the effect that the sale of the property is a matter with which the present board finds itself unable to deal as it extends over a period of several years after the majority of the present trustees have retired. The board suggests that all that can be done in the matter is to guarantee the city the first chance to buy when the property is offered for purchase.

The Council of United Able have decided on establishing a volunteer medical corps, to assist with medical advice and medicines in cases of extreme destitution. The Able are anxious to have at once generous offers from medical practitioners and dentists, to assist in this most humane venture. Will gentlemen desirous of volunteering their services, kindly notify Inspector Turnbull, the Vice Office, 66 McDougall avenue, at the earliest notice, or phone 2671, this in the compiling of the list there may be left off. The Man From Brodney's plague had broken out among the chateau servants and that no mail could be sent out from that place. He said he intended to warn the ship's officer of the danger in landing, and—well, that explains the short stay of the ship and the absence of nearly all mail from the island. There won't be another boat for three weeks, and they were kind because of the plague. They will get word, however, that every one in the chateau has died of the disease and that scores of natives are dying every day.

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON

"Well, we decided to break away from the guard and try to get to the chateau. It was their intention to take some of us back to the bank this morning to open the vault and the safes. That was to be our last act, I fancy. About 4 this morning, a dozen of the women came up to where we were being held. They were flying from the town and ran into the arms of our guard before they knew of their presence. It seems that those devils down their had set out to kill their women because it was known that one of them had warned Mr. Chase of his danger. During the excitement brought about by their arrival in our camp we made a sudden attack upon our guards. They were not expecting it and we had seized their rifles before they could recover from their surprise. I regret to say that we were obliged to kill a few of them in the row that followed. You let us in just in time. My word, it was a close shave."

"It's an ill wind that blows all evil," said Deppingham. "Mr. Bowles, you are welcome. We are a bit short of able-bodied soldiers. May we count on you and the men who came with you?"

"To the end, my lord," said Bowles, almost bursting his jacket by indignation. The others slapped their legs sincerely.

The arrival of the refugees from Ararat gave the chateau a stanch like the garrison of sixty men.

"For the time being we are as snug as bugs in a rug," said Deppingham when all was over. "Shall we rejoin the ladies, gentlemen?" He was as calm as a May morning.

The three leaders found the ladies in the shaded balcony, lounging lazily, as if no such thing as danger existed.

Below them in the grassy courtyard a dozen indolent Persians were congregated, lying about in the shade with all the abandon of absolute security.

The three women in the balcony had been watching them for an hour, commenting freely upon these creatures from another world.

Nemah, the youngest and prettiest of them all, had yawned kisses to the proud dames above. She had danced for their amusement.

As Lady Agnes waved her hand lastly toward the group below, sending a mocking smile to Chase. "The Asiatic plague," she said cheerfully.

"The disease" broke in her husband, catching her meaning. "Has it really broken out?"

"Depp," you are the dumbest creature I know!" exclaimed his wife.

Chase smiled broadly. "She refers to the newly supposed hero, Lord Deppingham. We're supposed to die with the Asiatic plague, not to—not to."

"Not to live with it! Ho, ho, I see, by Jove!" roared Deppingham amiably. "Splendid! Hurray! I get the point. Ripping!"

"They're not so bad, are they, Bob?"

by?" asked Lady Agnes coolly, going to Brodney's side at the railing. It may not have been true that Brodney was in love with Lady Deppingham, but it was more than evident that his wife felt convinced that he was.

"Splendid!" was the sudden exclamation of Drusilla's vagrant lord. The others looked up, interested. "Say, everybody, Lady Agnes and I have hit upon a ripping scheme. It's great!"

"To better our position?" asked Deppingham.

"Position? What—oh, I see. Not exactly. What do you say to a charity ball, the proceeds to go to the survivors of the plague we're expected to have?"

The princess gave a quick, involuntary look at Chase's face. Brodney's tall fellow countryman was now leaning against the rail beside her chair. She saw a look of surprised amusement flit across his face, succeeded almost instantly by a hard, dark frown of displeasure. He waited a moment and then looked down at her with an unbearable shame and disapproval in his eyes.

"We might just as well be merry while we can," Brodney was saying. "Think of what the French did at the time of the commune. They danced and died like ladies and gentlemen. And our own forefathers, Chase, at the time of the American Revolution—remember them too. They gave their balls and parties right under the muskets of British cannon. And Vicksburg—New Orleans, too—in the civil war! Think of 'em! Why shouldn't we be as brave and as gay as they?"

"But they were earnest in their distractions," observed Deppingham, with a glance at his wife's eager face. "This could be nothing more than a travesty, a jest."

"Oh, let us be sports," cried Lady Agnes, falling into an Americanism readily. "It may be a jest, but what odds? Something to kill time with."

"Don't like Mr. Brodney," whispered Genera suddenly. Chase did not reply. She waited a moment and then went on. "He is not like Deppingham. Do you understand?"

Lady Deppingham came over to them at that instant, her eyes sparkling.

"It's to be tonight," she said. "A fashionable charity ball—everything except the newspaper accounts, don't you know. Committees and all that. It's short notice, of course, but life may be short. We'll have Arab acrobatics, Persian dances, a grand march, electric light and absolutely no money to distribute. That's the way it usually is. Now, Mr. Chase, don't look so sour! Be nice, please!" She put her hand on his arm and smiled up at him so brightly that he could not hold out against her. She caught the touch of disapproval in Genera's glance, and a sharp, quick flash of rebellion came into her own eyes.

"What is a charity ball?" asked Genera after a moment.

"A charity ball is a function where one set of women sit in the boxes and say nasty things about the women on the floor, and those on the floor say nasty things about the women in the boxes. It's great fun."

"Charity is simply a hallucination, then?"

"Yes, but don't mention it aloud. Mr. Britt is trying with might and main to prove that Dobby and I have hallucinations without end. If I happen to look depressed at breakfast time he jots it down—spells of depression and melancholia, do you see? It's a dreadful man."

Saunders was approaching from the lower end of the balcony. He appeared flustered. His face was red and perspiring and his manner distraught.

"Well, Saunders?" said Deppingham as the lawyer stopped to clear his throat obscuroly.

"I have found sufficient food of all descriptions, sir, to last for a month at least," said Saunders in a strained, unnatural voice.

"Give a cigarette, Depp?" interrupted Brodney, seeing that something was amiss with Saunders. In solemn order the silver box went the rounds.

Saunders spoke up, as if suddenly recollecting something. "I have to report, sir, that the stock of cigarettes is getting very low. They can't last three days at this rate, sir."

The three men stared at him.

"Good Lord!" exclaimed Chase, who could face any peril and resist the excitement if needs be, but who now foresaw a sickening deprivation. "You can't mean it, Saunders!"

"I can't do, sir. The mint is holding out well, though, sir. I think it will last."

"By George, that is a calamity!" groaned Chase. "Now is a man to fight without cigarettes?"

Genera quietly proffered the one not lighted, a quizzical smile in her eyes.

"My contribution to the cause," she said gayly. "What strange creatures men are! You will go out and be shot at all day and yet—She paused and looked at the cigarette as if it were entitled to reverence."

"It does seem a bit silly, doesn't it?" lamented the stalwart Chase. Then he took the cigarette.

CHAPTER XX.

THE CHARITY BALL.

THEY were not long in finding out what had happened to Saunders. After luncheon, while Brodney and the three ladies were completing the preparations for the entertainment, Miss Pelham appeared before Deppingham and Chase in the former's headquarters. She had asked for an interview and was accompanied by Mr. Britt.

"Mr. Saunders has deceived me," she announced steadily. "I leave it to you if his attentions have not been most pronounced. Of course, if I wanted to, I could show you a transcript of everything he has said to me in the last couple of months. He didn't know it, but I managed to get most everything down in shorthand. I did it at the risk, too, your lordship, of being considered cold and unresponsive by him. It's most difficult to take conversation without the free use of your hands, I must say. But I've preserved in my own black and white every promise he made and—"

"I'm afraid it won't be good evidence," volunteered her lawyer. "It will have to be substantiated, my dear."

"Please don't call me 'my dear,' Mr. Britt. Never you mind about it not being good evidence. Thomas Saunders won't enjoy hearing it read in court just the same. What I want to ask of you, Lord Deppingham, as a friend is to give Mr. Britt your deposition regarding Mr. Saunders' attitude toward me to the best of your knowledge and belief. I'll take it down and put it into typewriting free of charge. I—I don't see anything to laugh at, Mr. Chase," she cried, flushing painfully.

"My dear girl," he said, controlling himself. "I think you are misjudging the magnitude of a lover's quarrel. Don't you think it is rather a poor time to talk breach of promise with the guns of an enemy ready to take a pop at us at any moment?"

"It's no worse than a charity ball, Mr. Chase," she said severely. "Charity begins at home, gentlemen, and I'm here to look out for myself. Let me else will, let me tell you that. I want to get the deposition of every person in the chateau. They can be sworn to before Mr. Bowles, who is a magistrate, I'm told. He can marry people and—"

"By Jove!" exclaimed Deppingham suddenly. "Can he? Upon my soul!"

"His manner changed as soon as that horrid little wife of Selim came to the chateau. I don't like the way she looks at him, and I told him so this morning down in the storerooms. My, but he drew up! He said he'd be— he'd marry me." She began to use her handkerchief vigorously. The men smiled as they looked away.

"I—I intend to sue him for breach of promise," she said thickly.

"Is it as bad as all that?" asked Deppingham consolingly.

"What do you mean by 'bad as all that'? It's hissed me time and again, but that's all."

"I'll send for Saunders," said Deppingham sternly.

"Not while I'm here," she exclaimed. "Just as you like, Miss Pelham. I'll send for you after we've talked it over with Saunders. We can't afford a scandal in the chateau, don't you know."

"No, I should think not," she said pointedly. Then she looked at Chase and winked, with a meaning nod at the unobserving Deppingham. Chase followed her into the hall.

"None of that, Miss Pelham," he said severely.

Saunders came in a few minutes later, nervous and uncomfortable.

"You sent for me, my lord," he said weakly.

"Sit down, Saunders. Your knees seem to be troubling you. Miss Pelham is going to sue you for breach of promise."

"Good Lord!"

"What have you promised her?"

"That I wouldn't marry her; that's all, sir," stammered Saunders. "She's got no right to presume, sir. Gentlemen always indulge in little affections, I might say, sir. It's most common. Of course I thought she'd understand."

"Don't you love her, Saunders?"

"Oh, I say, my lord, that's rather a pointed question. My word, it is, sir. There may have been a bit of—or well, you know—between us, sir, but—that's all, that's quite all, absurdly all, 'pon my soul!"

"Saunders," said Britt solemnly, "I am her attorney. Be careful what you say in my presence."

"Britt," said Saunders distinctly, "you are a blooming traitor. You told me yourself that she was used to all that sort of thing and wouldn't mind. Now see what you do! It's—It's outrageous!" He was half in tears. Then, turning to Deppingham, he went on fiercely: "I won't be bullied by any woman, sir. We got along beautifully until she began to stir decorative pots at me because Selim's wife looked at me occasionally. Hang it all, sir, I can't help it if the ladies choose to look at me. Minnie—Miss Pelham—was perfectly silly about it. Good Lord!" he groaned in recollection. "It was a very trying scene she made, sir. More than ever it made me realize that I can't marry beneath me."

"Saunders," said Lord Deppingham sternly, "she loves you. I don't understand why or how, but she does. Just because you have obtained an exalted

Johnston's Walker's fine and fashionable suits were introduced on Monday afternoon with an impressive and curious crowd of shoppers, eager to get a first peep at the new ready-to-wear department; where runner had it more any number of attractive suits and several lines of specialties for which this firm was the sole agent.

It was a bright idea that occurred to the management to make their Spring opening the occasion of an afternoon sale; and from four to six a delicious cup of the fragrant beverage served in very dainty fashion, was at all times available, while the strains of a delightfully musical orchestra enhanced the pleasure of strolling as the selected from among the many tempting offerings their new Spring frocks.

All about were displayed the most exquisite flowers and potted plants—truly shopping under ideal conditions. And while all these happy and novel attractions existed to attract this usually thing occupation a pleasure, it was the fine display of fresh and charming offerings that was the most delightful surprise of the afternoon.

I was shown, for instance, some very jaunty colored fine suits in any shade for $7.75 and up. Think of it, really good, well-cut models at that price! Some effects of better material were correspondingly few in cost, while the selection was gratifyingly wide. This firm's models; fit, finish and serge coats, are admirable. A range of dark suits, particularly fine vests, with black accessories, being often smart and comfortable. Another of their specialties is lace coats of every length and style. I saw a fine looking coat from Brussels, some many little about ones, about thirty-six inches, and from that down to the knee.

By finding a necklace, a diamond got entangled into the throat of Mr. Goldie, 127 Sixth Street, late Friday night, and making his way unaidedly into the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Goldie, succeeded in stealing $15 from a hand satchel that hung for one of the daughters. He was not arrested until the next day. The thief was not reported to the police.

and always popular models; so well made, so pretty and tempting that few minute you hear the price you will be forced to buy off hand. For elderly women there were some beautiful ones in silk and lace, and silk heavily embroidered, creating a handsome effect.

Then of course there were suits and separate skirts in countless varieties, just the thing for those glorious spring days, with lighter summer silk ensembles that were very fetching.

The children, too, have been remembered, and one great thing table is crowded with pretty wash frocks for little girls. The children and infant sections are also on this floor, and when all the goods in these lines that are daily expected one in Johnston's Walker's ready-to-wear department will be as up-to-date in every respect as any in the other departments of this decidedly popular and splendidly arranged shop. SUBSTANTIAL BUGGIES

WELL MADE—LOOK FINE—PRICED LOW

If the Buggy you buy is made by The Brantford Carriage Co., Limited, you can rest easy about the Quality. Their vehicles require no recommendation from us, you can see them on almost every country road, and you'll notice that they are owned by up-to-date farmers, doctors and merchants. There are two styles that are becoming very popular in Western Canada. Write us direct or see the Cockshutt Dealer about them.

The body of this particular Buggy is made from choice Whiteoak, with matured Ash frames, and steel corners if desired. It is handbuilt and finished with No. 1 leather, has full spring seat and cushion. Top is made of finest 26 ounce rubber and cloth bows as desired. Body hangs on Elliptic springs, which are the very latest and best springs made in America. The wheels run on steel axles. The best XXX Hickey is used for the shafts, which are trimmed with patent leather, quick shifter and anti-rattle attachment. The body is painted black, gear, dark green or carnation, with double handsome stripes and the finish is unexcelled—nothing to compare with this buggy for service, durability and appearance.

The construction of this Buggy is practically the same as No. 200, but the decorations of the body, seat and top are different. The body is painted in various fancy colors and the seat is more elaborately trimmed and filled with fancy bolsters back from the top of the seat panel to the arm rails. It has a spring cushion, strong nickel rail over seat back, nickel arm rails, fancy lining in the top and nickel knuckles on the joints. We are selling quite a large number of this style out West and our customers keep sending us excellent reports about it. You will be thoroughly satisfied with either of these buggies—they are both splendid vehicles to invest your money in.
